MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR

I am pleased to present the National Joint Committee of Senior Criminal Justice Officials (NJC) with the annual report for 2011–2012. This report highlights the key activities and achievements of the NJC and its regional committees (Atlantic, Quebec, Ontario, Prairie, and Pacific regions).

Every year, the NJC aims to hold two national meetings, while the regional committee chairs plan nearly 30 in Canada's five regions. A number of topics are on the agenda, including organized crime, street gang management strategies, intimidation of justice officials, Aboriginal issues, high-risk offenders, child exploitation, victims' rights and the sex offender registry. The regional committees regularly invite representatives and their respective communities to take part in the discussions.

In the spring, we organize the national meeting in one of the five regions, while the fall meeting is generally held in Ottawa, which allows more representatives from Public Safety Canada to participate.

The first national meeting was held on May 5, 2011, at Sleeman Park, P.E.I., where we discussed a number of regional and national issues. We also discussed how to develop and encourage the partnership with the various justice officials. It was also an opportunity to tour the grounds of the police academy for the Atlantic region.

The second meeting was held in Toronto on March 1, 2012, as the victim symposium did not take place in Ottawa in 2011, as planned. We have addressed the topic of victims with the Ontario-NJC. Several organizations gave high-quality presentations, highlighting the increased need for the partnership.

A great deal of work was done on our three-year strategic action plan to ensure that the NJC continues to play a decision-making role in the criminal justice system for years to come. Our current government, supported by legislation, implements its mandate, making the safety and security of the public a priority.

In future meetings, we will continue to maintain our objective of working in partnership with the victims. For this purpose, a national meeting will be held to discuss the issue.

The NJC is an effective and collaborative tool for a safe Canada! “Working together for safer communities”

In conclusion, I would like to thank Public Safety Canada for providing continuing financial support since 1973, in spite of a difficult period of economic and budgetary downturn.

Didier Deramond
Chair
National Joint Committee of
Senior Criminal Justice Officials

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

The National Joint Committee of Senior Criminal Justice Officials was established in 1973 under the joint auspices of the Canadian Association of Chiefs of Police (CACP) and the Parole Board of Canada (PBC).

The original purpose of the Committee was to improve communication, understanding and cooperation among police and corrections officials. Its founding members were senior police officers representing the Canadian Association of Chiefs of Police, RCMP, and officials from the Parole Board of Canada. Later, the Committee expanded to include the Correctional Service of Canada (CSC), the Canadian Association of Crown Counsel (CACC) and representation from the First Nations Chiefs of Police Association.

NJC establishes and maintains efficient and effective mechanisms of communication and consultation between the RCMP, CSC, PBC, CACC, the First Nations Chiefs of Police Association, and other agencies which are part of the criminal justice system.

The NJC works in partnership with governments and all agencies and services in the provision of advice on any matter referred to the Committee by these governments, agencies and services.

Today, NJC is a unique coast-to-coast forum that brings together representatives from Public Safety Canada, the Department of Justice, CSC, provincial Crowns, police and the PBC. NJC is also the sole criminal justice forum in Canada that engages people who are active in the operational administration of criminal justice and represents governments, non-governmental organizations and other criminal justice players in discussions on the criminal justice system.

HIGHLIGHTS FROM NATIONAL ACTIVITIES

SHARING BEST PRACTICES FOR A SAFER COMMUNITY SUMMERSIDE, PEI, MAY 5, 2011

The Atlantic region showcased a number of NJC activities that are taking place in the area to enhance community safety.

Members heard presentations from the Atlantic Police Academy, the Halifax Regional Police, New Brunswick Victim Services, the Parole Board of Canada, and Correctional Service Canada.

NJC CHAIRS MEETING, TORONTO, ONTARIO, MARCH 1, 2012

The NJC chairs meeting was held in place of the planned Victim Symposium which was cancelled in early 2012.

NJC Chairs and Vice Chairs met to discuss issues such as a new budget plan, membership, the communications plan, and the upcoming NJC Chair/Vice Chair vote.

Due to a Government wide cap on certain types of expenditures, NJC Regional Chairs were asked to develop a three year plan outlining how Regional dollars will be spent in areas that do not primarily include travel or hospitality (e.g. printing, development of communications products, teleconference equipment, video equipment, and space for meetings).

Chairs were also asked to develop concrete NJC products for distribution and education. For example, contracts will be outsourced using NJC funds to develop research reports in areas that are identified as important to NJC organizations across the country.

III. Overview of Activities 2011

In April, the Ontario Regional members were informed that Correctional Service Canada is developing a strategic approach to community release and supervision. Called the Community Corrections Strategy, one of its goals is to help the community learn about conditional release under the current legislation and public policy.

To help CSC realize its goal, NJC members were invited to provide their feedback directly to CSC. Secondly, it was agreed that the Committee can help inform the public and their own members about role of the criminal justice partners in the management of offenders and the principles and practices of offender management, specifically the gradual supervised return of offenders to the community. Members were encouraged to use the public and internal information forums at their disposal to help provide the accurate information the public needs.

The High Risk Offender Sub Committee (HROC) held its regular business meeting in November and featured discussions on the security of justice officials, the electronic monitoring of federal offenders on conditional release, and the development of Corrections Canada's Community Corrections Strategy. As well, on October 12-14, the HROC along with the Niagara Regional Police and the Ontario Provincial Police held a conference on managing sex offenders in the community refining inter-agency cooperation.

Finally, Zone 3 held its annual conference on November 8 where it explored the problem of sexually deviant behaviour. It featured Detective Randy Norton, Durham Regional Police who discussed social networking and sex crimes; Dr. Tania Stirpe – Psychologist, Correctional Service of Canada who explored the assessment and treatment of sexual and violent offenders; and Detective Sergeants Jim Smyth and Ed Chafe, OPP Behavioral Sciences and Analysis Services, who discussed the Russell Williams case.

IV. Key Initiatives in the Ontario Region

For 2012 the Ontario Region NJC will focus on developing greater cooperation between criminal justice partners by supporting its HROC and Zone 3 Conference.

In addition, it is helping to develop a victim focussed agenda for the national chairs meeting in November as a way to keep victim's issues in the forefront of the NJC's priorities.

V. Regional Budget

The Ontario Region expended its budget funds supporting the High Risk Offender subcommittee meetings and the Zone 3 conference along with holding its regular business meeting.

III. Overview of Activities 2011/2012

Meetings have been held in all the locals within the region. The Local Chairs are very committed and forward all their meeting minutes to the Regional Chair. Topics covered within the locals include; use of skype and video conferencing, serious violent offenders, “Free Men on the Land” movement, space problems within institutions, numbers within institutions growing due to housing persons with substance and psychological problems, and backlog within courts.

All local committees report very good relationships amongst criminal justice partners within their areas. Westerman/Dauphin held their annual workshop in September 2011, with over 80 attendees. They hold the workshop at their own expense with each agency assisting with funding. Winnipeg was forced to cancel their workshop due to flooding conditions, but plan to hold one in 2012/2013

The local committees in Regina, Saskatoon and Prince Albert all held 3 meetings during the past year. Alberta is in the midst of forming local committees for the North and South of the province

V. Introduction

In 2011-2012, The Pacific Region National Joint Committee continued to grow and expand on past year successes. There continues to be an outstanding commitment from the criminal justice partners which is exemplified by the leadership of the executive committee and the significant engagement of the zone teams. A special thanks to all Executive Members for their leadership and commitment to strong partnerships. Also a special thanks to the Zone Reps and Members for their involvement with NJC and coordination and participation of the 4 workshops held this year! Commitment and communication will continue to be key in the region's success and as time becomes the challenge we must make more of an effort to sustain these important partnerships in our efforts to contribute to Public Safety. On a final note, we wish our long standing NJC Executive Member, Dave Keating, a healthy and happy retirement after 27 plus year with Correctional Service of Canada and 12 years with NJC!

VII. Overview of Activities 2011/2012

4 Workshops held in the 2011 fiscal year:

Prolific Offender/Crime Reduction workshop - October 20th, 2011 - Vancouver Island Zone.

- The topic of the workshop was originally based on the Prolific Offender Management (POM) committees developed and chaired by Community Corrections. There are 6 in total in the province. Two of them being in Victoria and Nanaimo. The monthly POM meetings include representation from a number of criminal justice partners, but the majority are police, probation, and federal parole and crown counsel. We then learned about a number of crime reduction units developed by local police detachments.

- The goal then became for the audience to learn about these programs/projects and either become involved in their local program or develop one in their own community.
- Cari Turi provided an overview of what NJC represents, guest speaker Chief Constable of Oak Bay (former Justice Secretariat staff) and NJC member Marna Johns provided an overview of the POM projects, representatives from the Victoria and Nanaimo POM members, provincial institution, and officers' from a number of police detachments.
- Information sharing and building relationships with our justice partners was promoted. This workshop has increased interest in attending our local POM meetings and 2 senior police officers' expressed interest in joining the Island Coastal NJC committee.

The 32nd Annual NJC Workshop - February 14th, 2012 - Lower Mainland Zone.

Location was at the Justice Institute of British Columbia in New Westminster. Nearly 200 Police, Parole, Crown, Probation Officers and CRF operators were present. There were 3 main speakers at this event:

- The first speaker was retired OPP Detective Sergeant Jim Van Allen who spoke about the Sovereign Citizen's / Freeman on the Land. Mr. Van Allen presented a comprehensive picture of who the Freeman are, their mindset and value system, how they operate, and.... the challenges for criminal justice personnel in working with them.
- The second speaker was Kyle Friesen, Counsel to the Legal Advisory Section of the RCMP. Mr. Friesen spoke about the legal implications of working with Sovereign Citizens. Mr. Friesen was energetic, dynamic and provided a great PowerPoint that helped to tell the story.

- The third speaker was Detective Sergeant Ed Chafe of the Ontario Provincial Police. Detective Sergeant Chafe presented for over two hours on the behavioural progression of Colonel Williams in Ontario. He spoke about the progression of Colonel Williams' offending from the paraphilic behaviours of voyeurism, lingerie fetishes, and cross dressing to sexual assault and murder. Detective Sergeant Chafe also provided unique insight into how Colonel Williams was apprehended.

NJC Pacific Region Workshop - March 26, 2012 - Interior Zone.

The Workshop topic was Mental Health and Offenders in the criminal justice field.

- Following opening remarks by NJC Chair Lorrie Kelsey, Dr. David Marxsen RCMP Psychologist gave a presentation on anti-social personality and psychopaths. His focus in his presentation is how to differentiate between the two psychological disorders and what professionals need to know. The following presenter was Sgt Darren Michel of the Kamloops Crime Prevention Unit. Sgt Michel reviewed the Kamloops Prolific Offender Project and the crime reduction efforts taken by Kamloops RCMP. It was clear from this presentation that having all agencies working together has had a significant impact on crime reduction in the city.
- Psychologist Dr. Reid Webster, professor at TRU presented information on mental illness and addictions. He discussed the substantial impact substances have on the behaviours and actions of mentally ill individuals. There was considerable information on different disorders and what professionals need to know to assist them working with the mentally ill population that abuse substances.
- The keynote speaker was Dr. Ian Mitchell, ER doctor at Kamloops Hospital. Dr. Mitchell provided a very informative presentation on the controversial topic of "excited delirium". Video footage showed cases where individuals act erratically, violently and often die from heart failure following use of some street drugs. The deaths are not diagnosed as overdoses as the amount of drugs in the system would not cause heart failure. RCMP and police have reported this behaviour and asked many questions about the management/handling of individuals exhibiting this behaviour.

NJC Pacific Region- Workshop, Vancouver Island Zone – May 6th, 2012

- The Victoria zone of the National Joint Committee of Senior Justice Officials put on a workshop for local justice partners outlining the criteria, process and transition for offenders/inmates being referred to the HRRAC (High Risk Recognizance Advisory Committee). Presentations provided by Corporal Sabrina Mills-Provincial 810 Coordinator, Aaron D'Argis High Risk Offender Analysis-BC Corrections and Krista Tebbutt-project manager-CSC.

Other activities include:

- Communications Presentations. NJC Executives gave presentations to their own agencies on the role of NJC.
- Published and distributed over 500 Police – Parole handbooks. Executive Member Dave Keating attended the Chiefs of Police Meeting in June 2011 to present information on NJC and formally promote the NJC Police Parole Handbook.

2012 Achievement Plan

- Strengthening the Yukon Zone. CSC staff member in the Yukon is working with Territory partners to start an NJC zone. Discussions are taking place with regard to the Yukon Zone being attached to Pacific Region or if the Territories should create their own zone. For discussion at the National Executive Meeting.
- Updating of the NJC Pacific Region website. VPD has agreed to sponsor the website and it is currently being updated.

VIII. Key Initiatives in the Pacific Region

The executive committee has established three key objectives for next 2 years:

OBJECTIVE #1

- Increasing communication of the executive and the zone teams through use of tele/video conferencing and regular email updates;
- Develop NJC handbook/guidelines for zones to operate by;
- Increase participation of zone team in the Yukon.

OBJECTIVE #2

Conduct communication initiatives to promote the role of NJC Pacific Region and to facilitate cooperation among the components of the criminal justice system by:

- Prolific Offender Management, Gangs, High risk offenders, Mental Health and Women Offenders.

It was also recognized that a key focus will be on the "Integration of Information Sharing and Intelligence" for all criminal justice workers to share and access information.

IX. Regional Budget:

The Pacific Region spent the received budget of $9000.
